New Entrants in
Chemical & Mechanical
Engineering

Chevron University Partnership Program Introduction

Undergraduate scholarships in Chemical and Mechanical Engineering are awarded by Chevron Upstream Europe through Chevron's University Partnership Program.

Chevron and Heriot-Watt University have a relationship stretching back over 30 years covering recruitment, research and knowledge transfer.

Chevron University Partnership Program Overview

The University Partnership Program, or UPP, is a global program developed in conjunction with a select group of leading universities around the world to establish new programs, support faculty and provide student scholarships. The collaboration extends to research and technology. Universities are selected based on their excellent reputation, forward thinking and result-oriented education development.
