

Postgraduate Research Proposal

This short form of proposal is designed to allow your supervisor to have a preview of your intended research direction and structure. This is to enable a more fruitful first meetings.

Applicant's Name
Contact email
Program Applied for Research Title :
What is the research project about and why is it important? An overview explaining what the research is about, previous research in this area and what differentiates your research from this, and why now is a good time to conduct your research (max 500 words).
Outline the research Aim and Objectives Summarise what you want to achieve with the entire study (Aim), and the specific, short-term steps you will need to take to achieve this (Objectives) (max 400 words).

Significance of studies

Explain why do you think your research is important ? How will your research contribute to the body of knowledge? Is your research novel? (max 400 words)

Describe your chosen research method and design.

Describe how you are going to gather information and how you are going to analyze the data (max 400 words).