Information for students coming from college

At Heriot-Watt, we welcome those of all backgrounds to our diverse student community. Each year around 1 in 5 of our new undergraduates join us in year 2 or year 3. A student who joins a university in any year above 1 is known as a direct entrant (DE).

At Heriot-Watt we know that being a DE can sometimes cause a lot of worry when thinking about transitioning to university. Some of the FAQs around being a direct entrant are ‘Will I have learnt the right content at college?’ ‘Will I be behind because I do not know how to use the student portal and VLE system?’ ‘Will I make friends as most of my year will have been studying together since year 1?’

Simply put, YES you have the correct knowledge, NO, you won’t be behind, our Get Ready for Success programme was designed for you! and YES, you will make friends around 25% of our student population per year are coming from college, with most entering in years above 1!

The reason you can gain articulate into a year above 1 is because your college course is aligned with our degree course modules allowing you to articulate! As long as your college course is directly relevant to the university degree course you wish to study. If you are unsure about whether your college course allows for advanced entry, you can research it using the pathways app. This research tool was created through the collaboration of the SFC and a number of colleges and universities across the wider South-East area of Scotland.

What does all the jargon mean? We do love to use words, so below is some of the words you will hear the most:

- Articulation is when a college student uses their college qualification to enter a university degree programme without any repetition of study. So, they are still able to gain an ordinary degree in three years or an Honours degree in four years, including their college years.

- Articulation agreement this is agreement that the university and college have worked hard on to make sure that your college course modules align with our degree programme modules in the foundation year(s) so your college qualification allows you entry into university at the correct level.

- Direct entry/ Advanced entry means the same thing as articulation! Using your HNC/ HND to gain entry into year 2 or 3. You will hear all these terminologies used by all the universities and colleges and they all mean entering a degree programme in any year above 1!

There are a few differences in learning and teaching styles between college and university which it might be useful to consider when preparing to transition to university.

Less directed learning, more independent learning

On average you will spend less time in face-to-face learning environments than you would at college. The emphasis is much more on you independently reading around your subject and taking part in independent study for your topics. The academic staff are there to support you, but the expectation is much more on you to find information for yourself. The expectation is for you to bring things to them to discuss, rather than them ‘teaching’ you everything you need to know. However, they are always on hand to help if you need it, so remember, you just need to ask!

Larger classes

Many courses will have lectures, which can be up to 500 people in a room all listening to information and taking notes. There isn’t really an opportunity to ask lots of questions, but each lecture will also have a tutorial which is a much smaller group session, where you will discuss the topic in more depth and ask questions. It is important to prepare for your tutorials by reviewing your lecture notes, carrying out any proposed reading and being clear on the things you understand, to the things you would like to discuss further.

We have found that our mature students are amongst the most dedicated and sought after of all our students, as many of them will come to the University with existing skills,
Not being afraid to ask questions
Time management
Common sense
Interpersonal skills
Work experience
Multitasking

However, every student needs to learn new skills, and some you may wish to develop further include,

- Note taking in lectures
- Independent study
- Research methods
- Report writing
- Referencing

Here at the university, we aim to make your experience as pleasant as possible and encourage all our students to engage with the study support classes that are offered on a regular basis.

Study support
Our Global Effective Learning Service offers a range of study skills classes throughout the year to help students achieve their full academic potential. Popular topics covered are:

- Planning and organising
- Goal setting and maintaining motivation
- Effective note taking and strategies

Academic year
Our academic year is split into two 12-week semesters. During each semester, your programme will consist of 4 modules each with their own lectures, tutorials, and assessments. The 4 modules will run simultaneously.

Timetables are different each semester, more information timetables can be viewed on our website. The timetables for each new academic year will be published and available to all students through their student portal. The UK campus session dates for our current academic year can be found here.

Student finance
Please make sure you have applied for all of the funding you are entitled to from the Student Award Agency Scotland (SAAS). There are some really useful videos from SAAS to help you through your application process, with the addition of a SAAS Application Workshop which you sign-up to attend.

Please note: You can apply for your SAAS funding at any time, you do not need to wait until you are holding an offer, or until you have decided on your firm or insurance choices.
Childcare support
Students who are parents and carers of children can be supported through the Childcare Fund or the Hardship Fund. We offer funding towards childcare costs for full-time students (as long as you are in receipt of the maximum SAAS funding available, and you are seeking funding for formally registered childcare in Scotland).

We consider your household income when we are awarding funds, however, the funding does not just cover timetabled hours, it is based on the fact that you are in full-time education and what you are awarded is intended to support that. You can make a funding application once you are unconditional firm with us and you have started the enrolment process. The application forms are available to download from the Student Portal.

Ask a Student Success Advisor (SSA) is a one-to-one email-based support service available to students who have either an Unconditional Firm (UF) or Conditional Firm (CF) offer of a place at Heriot-Watt. Our SSAs are all recent graduates of Heriot-Watt University from a range of different subject areas, including our Scottish Borders campus, and they work within our Student Wellbeing team.

Unibuddy
If you would like the opportunity to chat to some of our current students or staff about their experiences or anything more subject specific, check out our Unibuddy pages to see who is available to take your questions. If you have something subject-specific, you can go to the course page and a current Unibuddy student live chat box will appear.

Get Ready for Success (GRfS)

Counselling
Being a student can be a very positive experience but there are also many challenges to deal with such as being away from home, being in a new country, exam pressures and building new relationships with friends. If you are worried about any issue or are thinking about dropping out of University, we can offer you counselling, support, and information to help you deal with the difficulties you may face. It may be that you only need one appointment but can attend more if you wish. There is also a counselling service out of the Student union, giving you a range of opportunities of support

Mental Health
If you experience a mental health difficulty while at the University, or have a pre-existing mental health condition, you can discuss any issues and concerns with a professional counsellor or Student Advisor. We have more information on our webpages, you may also want to read our Mental Health Support Guide

Disability Support
The Disability Service can provide support and advice for students with a range of disabilities. It is important that you inform us if you have a disability so the appropriate support can be arranged, and you may be eligible for additional funding from the Disabled Students Allowance. If you have any queries around this topic, you can email either wp@hw.ac.uk or disability@hw.ac.uk for more information or to clarify your eligibility.

Discretionary hardship fund
The University receives money every year from the Scottish Government to assist students who are experiencing financial difficulty. Money is awarded for help with living costs (not tuition fees) and is paid as a grant. The fund is discretionary and does not need to be repaid. More information on eligibility criteria and how to apply can be found on our webpages.

Effective Learning Service (ELS)
Our team of Learning Advisors and Librarians have created a study skills space called Getting ready to study. The aim of the space is to provide useful advice, resources, contacts, guides and ‘how to’ videos to help you get prepared and develop the skills you will need to be successful at university and beyond.

Personal Tutors
Every student has a member of academic staff allocated to them as a personal tutor. Your personal tutor is your first point of contact if you need advice on any issue, both academic and non-academic. Personal tutors can also advise you of other support sources available to you as appropriate. You will be introduced to your personal tutor during welcome week.

COVID-19
The global response to the pandemic means we are now adapting the way in which we deliver our teaching in the UK, Dubai, and Malaysia, we are calling this approach Responsive Blended Learning. This flexible approach will allow students to begin the academic year on schedule, wherever they are in the world.
