SYLLABUS

Text
Workshops on techniques of summarising/translation; group and individual presentation of texts prepared for oral summary/translation, including class discussion. Students are given preparation work which they are expected to complete outside class hours.

Written Composition

Workshops involving a variety of activities (translating, correspondence, précis-writing, text analysis) relating to the production of target texts in the FL working from English and/or FL source texts. Students are given preparation work which they are expected to complete outside class hours.

Spoken

Workshops involving a variety of oral activities (argumentation, presentation, discussion) based on business and economy related topics. Students are expected to carry out necessary preparatory research for classes using a variety of written, audio and video sources.

Skills for Interpreting

Conference

Keyword exercises, memory exercises; preparation through video and/or written texts; consecutive interpreting exercises and analysis of performance. Recorded material is provided for class preparation and follow-up which students are expected to work on outside class.

Liaison

Introductory exercises on standard speech acts (statements and enquiries of fact; statements and enquiries of opinion; introductions and leave-taking; politeness; cultural mediation). Recorded material is provided for class preparation and follow-up which students are expected to work on outside class.

Work devoted to investigation and development of lexis in the relevant topic fields (media; education; social welfare and services; industrial relations; government and legal system; political parties; regionalism and the European dimension) will help prepare students for workshops based on simulated dialogues making use of the lexis acquired. Additional recorded material is provided which students are expected to work on outside class hours.
