Research in the Department of Psychology, School of Social Sciences, Heriot-Watt University is grouped under three main themes. Cognitive, Brain and Behaviour; Health; and Learning and teaching. Research publications, in the form of articles in peer-reviewed journals and in conference proceedings, are the outcomes of research activity. The School of Social Sciences is committed to the highest standards of research excellence and impacts across a range of social sciences disciplines. The School of Social Sciences is also committed to excellence in teaching and learning, providing innovative, engaging and high-quality education for all students.

The team regularly presents at conferences and at campus events. In this month's newsletter you'll find the regular updates on our research activities, to the conferences and outreach events we've supported by the Heriot-Watt University in the last month. Find out more about IPCD at the Heriot-Watt University website. Find out more about IPCD at the Heriot-Watt University website. Find out more about IPCD at the Heriot-Watt University website.

The College of Social Sciences team regularly presents its work at international conferences and at campus events. In this month’s newsletter you’ll find the regular updates on our research activities, to the conferences and outreach events we’ve supported by the Heriot-Watt University in the last month. Find out more about IPCD at the Heriot-Watt University website.

Professor Graham Macgregor, the College of Social Sciences Impact Champion, was recently awarded the Impact Champion Active gift, which was used to support the development of the Impact Champion Network at Heriot-Watt University. Find out more about IPCD at the Heriot-Watt University website.

In this month’s newsletter you’ll find the regular updates on our research activities, to the conferences and outreach events we’ve supported by the Heriot-Watt University in the last month. Find out more about IPCD at the Heriot-Watt University website.

The College of Social Sciences team regularly presents its work at international conferences and at campus events. In this month’s newsletter you’ll find the regular updates on our research activities, to the conferences and outreach events we’ve supported by the Heriot-Watt University in the last month. Find out more about IPCD at the Heriot-Watt University website.